MOTHER-CONGRESSWOMAN SENDS HER SON TO ANNAPOLIS

Wallace M. Huck, known as "Shorty," has been appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, by his mother, Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, who as a member of Congress was less than a year ago, urging anti-militaristic measures in Congress. Mrs. Huck declared at that time that her one aim was to start in motion work that would lead to world peace. She was defeated for re-election but before she left Congress she appointed her son to the Naval Academy, although they had to waive regulations to permit his entrance because he was not the required height.

SENATOR-ELECT JOHNSON AND HIS FAMILY

Here is the family of U. S. Senator-elect Magnus Johnson, of Minnesota, grouped on the porch of their home at Meeker county, near Kimball, Minn. Reading, left to right: Francis, 19; Victor, 21; Agnes, 10; Mrs. Magnus Johnson; Lillian, 25; Magnus, Jr., 14; Florence, 9, and Senator-elect Magnus Johnson. A typical farmer's family is that of Senator-elect Johnson, who takes up the duties of the late Senator Knute Nelson.

"DOUG" FAIRBANKS, JR.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., waves a greeting to friends and relatives who greeted him on his recent arrival in Los Angeles. Douglas is thirteen years old, and is to be starred in a series of pictures typifying American youth. One of the first of these will have the Boy Scout movement as a background.

NEW FEATHERWEIGHT KING

Johnny Dundee, who won the featherweight crown from Eugene Ciqui recently in New York.

STORMFIELD, HOME WHERE MARK TWAIN DIED, DESTROYED BY FIRE

View of the ruins of Stormfield, the beautiful country home near Redding, Ct., in which Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) spent the closing years of his life. All that is left are these chimneys and fire places, before which the great American humorist was wont to toast his shins and muse. The house was destroyed recently by fire, causing an intrinsic loss of at least $175,000, and narrowly costing the life of the owner, Mrs. Margaret E. Givens, of New York, and her son and daughter, Eben and Thelma Givens.

ALL RIGHT—LET 'ER RIDE

The rodeo at Salinas, Calif., will be enlivened by a novel feature. Broncho busting will be held from the back of a bucking motor car. Lin Howard, seated on the saddle strapped to the hood, is ready to rope the steer, while brother Charles Howard, Jr., is at the wheel ready to step on the gas and give the steer a speed tussle. The Howard boys, sons of Charles S. Howard, motor car distributor, have spent many years on their ranch in Ridgewood, Calif., and are experts when it comes to broncho-busting.

THE "CYCLEPLANE," FIRST FOOTPOWER PLANE

W. F. Gerhardt, aeronautical engineer at McCook Field, Dayton, with the "cycleplane," which he invented and recently took up for a successful test flight. Mr. Gerhardt claims to be the first man to raise from the ground in a flight in a machine using only the motive power supplied by the pilot's muscle. Note seven wings of machine. He calls it a "scientific curiosity".

ALMOST A CROPPER—REMARKABLE PHOTO OF CANINE STEEPCHASE

A sight rare to the eyes of sportsmen—over the last hurdle and down the home stretch—an exciting moment during a novel race between five dogs held daily at Atlantic City, N. J. The one just leaping the hurdle and doing a nose-dive in the turf won in spite of this accident.

EDITH GOULD'S HUSBAND MAY QUIT BROKER BUSINESS FOR PAINTING

Can a broker become an artist? The hero of "The Moon and Sixpence" did—but that part of the book was fiction. Now comes Carroll Livingstone Wainwright, prominent young society man and husband of the former Edith Gould, who has just discovered a talent for painting miniatures and is seriously considering abandoning his brokerage business to devote all of his time to art. The photo shows Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Livingstone Wainwright on the porch of their summer home at Ventnor (Atlantic City), N. J., discussing his new meter. The youthful broker-artist says: "They say one does things for love, fame or money. Well, I'm doing this for love and for fame; not for money—I've about decided to make miniature painting my profession and let the brokerage business take second place. If the firm doesn't like it, they can lump it."

ANDREE LAFAYETTE

The charming Parisian whose beautiful feet won her the leading role in "Tribby".

TRAPPIST MONKS TURN FARMERS

One of the chief aims of the Fascist Government in Italy is to increase the agricultural production. There has been a scarcity of labor, as young Italians are emigrating to America, and for this reason the Mussolini Government is conscripting labor. Famous Trappist monks are setting an example by offering their services for agricultural work. Photo shows the Trappist monks working in the fields. This is the first time they appeared in public on such an occasion.

UNCLE SAM'S FLOATING LANDING FIELD

U. S. S. Langley airplane carrier and landing field of the U. S. Navy. It can carry thirty planes and has a special platform that can stop a full speeding plane inside of twenty-five feet.

WHEN A WHOLE TOWN MOVES

It may sound a bit peculiar, but it's the truth. The entire town of American Falls, Idaho, a little agricultural community, has consented to move to a new town site as the result of negotiations by representatives of the United States Government. The present site, according to plans, will be inundated together with 83,000 surrounding acres, to make way for the construction of the gigantic American Falls reservoir which will be the largest of the United States and the fourth largest in the world, with a capacity of 1,500,000 acre-feet of water. The cost of the project is estimated at $12,000,000.

OLD AND NEW HAWAII JOIN IN SILVER JUBILEE OF ANNEXATION
